

ABSTRACT

This invention is in the field of enteric film coating, dry powder compositions for coating pharmaceutical dosage forms. It relates to aqueous enteric coating and provides a dry enteric film coat composition based on an acrylate copolymer and other excipients, but without an alkalinizing agent in the composition.